Dear Parents/Carers

RE: Year 6 – The Past Holds the Key to Your Future!

On Monday 23rd November, our Year 6 children will be taking part in an exciting STEM workshop exploring the world of archaeology, linked to their current topic on evolution.

Under the title The Past Holds the Key to Your Future! the children will have the opportunity to unearth the wonders of STEM careers through an archaeological dig. They will investigate and examine their findings, learning how to document, record and identify discoveries, just as real archaeologists do.

The workshop will provide a fantastic opportunity for the children to develop their scientific thinking, observation and recording skills while making links to their learning about evolution and how evidence from the past helps us understand the world today.

The university has also provided a HEAT consent form for parents and carers who are happy for their child's data to be used as part of the university's research. This permission is entirely optional and is not required for your child to take part in the workshop. However, receiving consent will be helpful to the university in supporting its research.

If you are happy to give consent, please complete and return the attached HEAT form.
We hope the children have a fantastic afternoon exploring the past, discovering new things and finding out more about the exciting STEM careers available to them in the future!

Many Thanks

Miss Sargent
